The International Congress of Psychology is a unique gathering of international psychologists from all disciplines within psychology. As such, the published proceedings of the Congress provide a comprehensive up-to-date overview of the developments within and challenges facing every area of psychology.

The International Union of Psychological Science has agreed with Psychology Press that the contributions by the Invited Speakers at the International Congress, including the Presidential Address, and the Invited Addresses will be published as soon as possible after the Congress has taken place.

The invited papers will be published in two volumes, broadly collected by subject. Volume 1 will contain papers on cognitive and neuropsychological issues; while Volume 2 will contain papers on personality, developmental, social, and cultural issues. Peter A. Frensch assisted by an editorial board representing the Scientific Program Committee of the Congress will edit the volumes.

After the Congress each volume will be priced at EUR 98, however either or both volumes may be pre-ordered at a 50 % discount – EUR 49 per volume. This price includes postage and packing. Please fill in and return the attached pre-publication order form (or visit the Proceedings website) to place your order.

The volumes are due to be published six to twelve months after the Congress. We will hold your details and forward them to Psychology Press after ICP 2008. Psychology Press will then send you a pro-forma invoice shortly before publication. Books will be dispatched on receipt of payment.
